Hot, warm or cold - it is all a question of perfect insulation

Thermo mugs and bottles play a major role in every promotional product mix. They offer a high benefit, are positively accepted by the customers and are capable of presenting advertising messages in an impressive way. Enough of a good reason to take a closer look at these products. Thermo- or insulating containers are mugs, bottles and flasks, which are particularly good at one thing: Keep beverages warm or cold for as long as possible. What exactly does that mean? The beverage, whether cold or warm, is shielded as well as possible against cooling or warming outside air. This is where product tightness and insulation technology come into play. There are three different types of insulation:

1) Double wall: Here the inner vessel is separated from the outer shell and the establishment of a heat or cold bridge between the inner and outer wall is avoided.

2) Vacuum technology: If there is a vacuum between the vessel walls, a higher degree of insulation is created.

3) Copper coating: If the outer walls of double-walled insulating vessels are coated with copper on the inside, an even higher insulation value is produced by reflection. Together with a vacuum, this creates the highest possible level of insulation.

myBayamo: Design the sleeve yourself.

In addition to an elaborate classic customisation, we would like to lead your attention to the individually customised sleeve. No matter whether you want to put your logo or your product innovation in the limelight, with a distinctively designed sleeve you are always right. From a quantity of 1,000 mugs, we make it happen for you. Please contact us!

LUMINOUS

What do you mean by Luminous?

Branding spotlights.

Our Luminous collection is advertising for you even in the dark. Attract attention? Of course! The illuminated advertising space in combination with laser engraving makes your logo shine strikingly. Light underlines the special appeal of your product and gives the contours of your logo the extra sparkle it deserves.

How does the light get into the product?

To make the light behind your logo shine, a part of the surface in the shape of your logo is carefully exposed with the laser. If your product is connected to electricity, you can activate the light function.

Why backlight a coffee mug?

Returnable mugs are currently experiencing a renaissance. In cafés, at coffee-to-go counters or bakeries, own brand reusable mugs are offered or a discount is given for a coffee mug you bring along. Returnable mugs are durable and popular. Moreover, they are often used. They are therefore ideal advertising areas that can transport a message with lasting impact.
